Dear Meda,

Enclosed are the revisions for the Division constitution. Additional material is underlined; bracketed material will be deleted. The revisions are based on the committee's work last year and on our discussions at the Division meeting last November.

Instead of simply including the materials to be changed, I typed up the entire constitution to give you the context within which the changes will be made. In addition, I don't think there is an updated copy of the constitution since it was approved by the ASC Executive Board in 1984; changes made previously were simply appended.

As Section VII., the section dealing with amendments, states we must first submit the changes to the Division membership for approval, then to the ASC Executive Board for approval. The changes cannot be implemented until two months after the 1990 ASC Annual Meeting.

With respect to the election of Executive Counselors for the Division, attendees at the Division meeting requested that we have two or three year staggered terms. I included two year terms, since each counselor may serve twice in succession; past experience demonstrates that most people who work for the Division are, in fact, reelected. Under the new procedures, this means that theoretically they could serve for four consecutive years. That is asking our members for a substantial commitment. If the term of office were to be three years, then we would be asking for six years of their time. Personally, this is asking too much. We might discourage members from serving. Hence, I used two year terms.

Reference to "staggered" terms for Executive Counselors is noticeably absent from the revisions. We do not have to burden either the constitution or bylaws with such procedural details. Rather, as in the first version of the Division constitution, I have simply added a statement regarding the length of term for the newly elected Counselors the first time this procedure is used. Thereafter, all newly elected Executive Counselors will be elected for two year terms.

Since the new procedures will not take effect until after the 1990 meetings, we will have to elect Counselors from the floor to ensure that we have Counselors for the Board.

I hope the new decade finds you in good spirits and health.

Let me know if these changes are adequate.

Stay in touch.

Sincerely,

Phyllis Jo Baunach

THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CRIMINOLOGY

Division on Women and Crime

TO: Members of the Division on Women and Crime,
American Society of Criminology

FROM: Kathleen Daly, Secretary for the Division

RE: Changes in the Division's Constitution and By-Laws

At the Division's Business Meeting in November 1989, ten changes (or amendments) were proposed to the Division's Constitution and By-Laws by the Constitution and By-Laws Committee (Phyllis Jo Baunach and Brenda Miller). They were accepted by the Division's Executive Board and now go to Division members for a vote. A two-thirds vote of approval is necessary to amend the Constitution and By-Laws.

Enclosed is a summary of the proposed amendments. The changes are intended to do the following:

- Make explicit that one purpose of the Division is to raise awareness of gender-related issues (items 1 and 3)
- Create a new officer, Newsletter Editor, so that one person will be appointed Newsletter Editor and another person will be elected Vice-Chairperson (items 4, 5, 8)
- Revise features of the three Executive Counselor positions: two year term, elected by ballot vote, staggered terms (items 6, 7, and 10)
- Drop language which is no longer relevant (item 2) and add flexibility in the formation of Division Committees (item 9).

Enclosed is the text of the Constitution and By-Laws, in which the proposed additions are underlined, and the deletions bracketed. This will help you see the changes in context.

A ballot and return envelope are enclosed. Please vote and mail your ballot right away. Approved amendments take effect two months after the next Annual Meeting (1990) of the ASC, and they are subject to the approval of the ASC Executive Board.

In order to vote, you must be a member in good standing -- which means you have paid your Division dues for 1990. If you have not paid your dues, we are enclosing information for you to do so.

RETURN YOUR BALLOT POSTMARKED NO LATER THAN JUNE 15, 1990

thanks!
